CIQS WELCOMES TAMMY STOCKLEY, PQS(F) AS NEWLY APPOINTED CHAIR

Markham, ON, June 25, 2024 – The Canadian Institute of Quantity Surveyors is proud to announce that Tammy Stockley, PQS(F) was appointed as the chair of CIQS at Congress 2024 in Toronto last week.

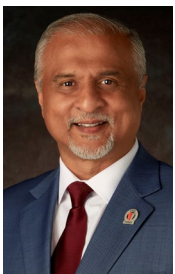

Tammy Stockley began her career in Quantity Surveying Consulting in 1992 after graduating from Architectural Engineering Technology in St. John's NL. Her professional career roles evolved from cost planner, cost consultant, senior cost consultant, associate, associate director, and to director in her current position with Altus Group's Development Advisory Business Unit.

She leads the Atlantic team, specializing in both the public and private sector market on project delivery mandates. During her 30-year career, her experience has spanned from working on projects of varying complexities delivering pre-construction estimating and project monitoring services.

Tammy joined the CIQS board of directors in 2019 and was elected as vice-chair of the CIQS in 2022. She has also served as chair of CIQS' external relations committee, helping to advocate awareness to stakeholders of the professional services of CIQS designate members and she continues to be an integral member of the CIQS advocacy team. Tammy served as past chair of the CIQS Newfoundland and Labrador Chapter and remains actively involved in local meetings/events. From the decision to choose a career path in either an architecture or accounting field, she has not looked back, as she considers the PQS route a perfect blend of both. Tammy was bestowed CIQS fellowship in 2022, in recognition of her meritorious contribution to CIQS and advancement of the profession.

We take a moment to thank the outgoing chair and past chair

During this year's Annual General Meeting, Arif Ghaffur, PQS(F) was celebrated for his extraordinary leadership as chair of CIQS over the past two years. Arif has been a dedicated director on the CIQS board of directors since 2015, working on a variety of portfolios, such as the member engagement portfolio and as the managing director of CIQS's journal, the Construction Economist.

Arif remains a key contributor to the implementation of the CIQS current strategic plan (2022-2025) and advocates for the profession through knowledge share and leadership in the construction and infrastructure industry. He remains on the board in the capacity of past chair.

Erin Brownlow, PQS(F) ended her term on the CIQS board of directors on Saturday, June 22, 2024, after eight years of exemplary service as a director, vice-chair, chair, and past chair. While chair of the board, she positioned the board to transition from an operational to a governance board, and she continued this work as past chair when she oversaw the governance, ethics and conduct portfolio. CIQS thanks Erin for her leadership and industry expertise during her tenure on the board.

We are pleased to present the 2024-2025 board of directors

About the Canadian Institute of Quantity Surveyors (CIQS)

CIQS was founded in 1959 and is the voice for Canada's construction economists. It is a self-regulatory, professional body and the gatekeeper of the ethics and standards of construction and infrastructure economics in Canada. It currently represents over 2,000 national and industry professionals and works on their behalf to promote the profession to the construction industry, its allied professions and government officials. The Institute has developed reciprocal agreements with a variety of industry organizations on the domestic and international stage.

CIQS owns and managed two professional designations, Professional Quantity Surveyor (PQS) and Construction Estimator Certified (CEC), which can only be used by qualified, certified members of the Institute.
